TALK OF THE TOWN

Lester Morgan of Williamstown was a business visitor in the city to-day.

The remains of William T. Trenoweth of 7 Beckley street, who suffered an apoplectic shock at the granite plant of William Cole & Sons on Blackwell street Tuesday, which ended fatally at the City hospital in the evening, were taken over the Central Vermont railroad at 12:55 o'clock this forenoon to Concord, N. H., where funeral services are to be held to-morrow in the Catholic church. A telegram was received here yesterday from Mrs. Trenoweth, who lives in Concord, advising the shipment of the remains to that city. George W. Waters, a Concord undertaker, arrived in the city this morning to take charge of the body.

En route to the national bowling tournament in Washington, D. C., next week, the Manchester candle-pin aggregation, champion of New Hampshire, will roll a match with local pin artists on the Merlo lanes. Harold Nute, a former Barre boy, who has been making the timber fly in the Granite state and in Massachusetts this winter, will be at the head of the Manchester team with such stars as McQuestern and Walsh as the runners-up. Some of the best bowling talent in Barre will rally to repel the invaders. From Barre the Manchester team will go directly to Boston, where an expedition of New England bowlers is being organized for the national tournament.
